

SHOOTS ONE, ROBS OTHERS

[United Press Leased Wire.]
Tocoma, Wash., May 21.—After shooting down Carl Glock, who was idly chatting with friends in the bar-room of the Potomac hotel, and ordering the wounded man propped up in a corner of the room with his hands held above his head, a daring bandit last night held seven men at bay at the point of a revolver while he overhauled the saloon cash register and searched his victim's pockets. His entire loot amounted to little more than $7 and a gold watch, snatched off the person of Frank Leonard.

The desperado, who is described as a very tall young man, sat in the saloon during the entire early part of the evening, evidently in a moody frame of mind. At exactly 10:10 o'clock he stepped to a rear room and was not noticed again until the shot rang out and Glock dropped to the floor. The man lined up the other six inmates of the saloon, ordering one of them to prop the wounded man up in a corner. When this was done he scooped out the contents of the cash drawer, hurriedly searched his victims, and disappeared through a rear door.

Glock was immediately taken to a hospital, and the police were notified. The wounded man was shot in the fleshy part of his side, and will recover from the effects of the wound in a few weeks.

It is believed that the desperado timed his deed, and that as soon as he had completed the work he boarded the 10:15 o'clock interurban car for Seattle, which left a few minutes after the holdup.

MURDERED HER THREE CHILDREN

Middletown, Conn., May 21.—Heartlessly cutting the throats of her three little children, Mrs. Lewis Carstem, an attractive woman of 35 years of age, committed suicide by the same means today.

Mrs. Carstem, her 10-month-old baby and her son, Lewis, aged 10 years, are dead, while her 7-year-old boy, John, is fatally wounded, and is expected to die before night.

Flying into a terrible rage at some minor offense of her children early today, the woman seized a razor and commenced her deadly work. It is believed that she was insane.

Lewis was the last of the children to receive a wound from the murderous woman, and he managed to get out of the house into the yard, where he fell dead. The boy's appearance was the first knowledge Lewis Carstem, Sr., had of the tragedy. He rushed into the house, but was too late to interfere.

The Saturday Journal will be devoted to boosting every part of this city and the Willamette valley and all Western and Eastern Oregon.

UNEARTH IMMENSE SKELETONS

San Clemente, Cal., May 21.—Unearthed in an Indian burial ground unearthed in an Indian burial ground near this place are being viewed by hundreds of curious spectators today. Two of the enormous racks of bones are about seven feet long, while the others measure more than six and a half feet.

The skeletons were found at an unusual depth, under the burial ground of the Tamal Indians, the inhabitants of the section before the white invasion. It is thought probable that they belonged to one of the Aztec tribes. Trinkets and ornaments of unique pattern were found with the skeletons.

GIRL USES BURGLAR'S HEAD FOR A BASEBALL

Seattle, May 21.—There is a battered and disgusted burglar in this city today who without doubt has made a solemn vow never to again engage in his nefarious pursuit until he has first ascertained that no athletic servant girl lurks about the premises armed with baseball paraphernalia.

Miss Clara Anderson, a servant in the employ of Leo S. Schwabacher, president of the Schwabacher Hardware Company, was awakened late last night to find that the gas in her room had been turned on with the evident intent to asphyxiate her and to see a prowler in the apartment of Mrs. Schwabacher, who was absent from home, helping himself to jewels and money from a dresser.

Securing a baseball bat which belonged to one of the Schwabacher children, Miss Anderson advanced upon the burglar and with a heavy swing of the bat sent the intruder reeling against the wall. Dropping two jewel cases which he held in his hands, the robber attacked the girl, knocking her down with a blow of his fist. The plucky servant arose and renewed her attack, belaboring the burglar so vigorously that he was compelled to flee without the plunder. The value of the jewels left behind is placed at $2000.

The only loot secured by the man was $30 in money taken from Mrs. Schwabacher's purse.

Clay, in congress, says the American consumers pay $136,000,000 a year more for their sugar than they would with the tariff off. Of this, he says, the government gets $52,000,000 and the trusts $83,000,000.

After many remedies had failed and several doctors gave me up, I tried Electric Bitters, which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Kidney Trouble, Lame Back, Female Complaints, its unequalled. Only 50c at J. C.
